

Dear Pastor and Church,

December 2016

Another year has come and almost gone. We have so many things to be thankful for as we think back on all the Lord has done. First, I must apologize for being a little late with this prayer letter; I have been a bit overwhelmed with life and ministry the last couple of months.

In our last letter I asked you to pray for our yearly International Fellowship meeting. We were the hosts this year. We had pastors come from all over Argentina, Chile, Paraguay, and Uruguay. Our theme was “Keeping the Unity” based on Eph. 4. The Lord used every speaker in a powerful way to encourage us and challenge us. I believe we will continue to see the fruit of this conference as we endeavor to keep the unity in our fellowship. Thank you for your prayers.

With every victory comes a new challenge. After the conference I have faced some ministry related challenges. Satan never rests so we should always have our guard up. Even when we know to expect his attacks, they can still be painful when they come. I am confident the Lord will have His way in all things, and all things will work together for our good. I do ask that you pray the Lord will give us wisdom as we face the trials ahead.

In October Sandy traveled to the States for seven weeks to help her dad with some health issues. We are at that stage in life where our parents need extra care. Her dad is alone and is facing dialysis on top of other issues. We don't like being apart but we are honored to help take care of those who have given so much for us. Sandy is back home now and I am greatly relieved. Please keep Sandy in your prayers as it is hard for her having her dad so far away during this stage of his life.

We would ask that you remember Juan Pablo and his father Juan in your prayers. They have been coming to our services for three weeks now and seem eager to learn. I have started a discipleship with Juan Pablo trying to straighten out some confusion in his mind from other religions he has been involved with.

We will finish out the year with the holiday season and start 2017 with our youth camps. We are already in full swing getting ready for all the activities this summer. Pray for us that it will be another fruitful camp season and that God would touch the hearts of our youth in a profound way. We need them to catch a vision for ministry and answer God's call to reach Argentina.

We are so thankful for the grace the Lord has given us in recent months and for your faithfulness in praying for us and making it possible for us to serve Him here in Junín. We plan to be in the States to raise our support level in the fall of 2017 if you would like to have us come and report on our ministry, please let us know. Follow us on our sites and social media for more info on our ministry.
